

Thousands Watch Modern Farming Wonders in Ohio

By ALFRED C. HALL

RIO GRANDE Sept. 23—(P)—Farmers saw today what industry has done for agriculture—and what agricultural science wants the farmer to do to improve his land.

Here by thousands to watch the big two-day Ohio Valley "second-frontier" soil and conservation demonstration, the farmers got a first-hand view of what life could be like on a modern, mechanized farm.

They saw by actual demonstration how their precious top soil can be saved and improved to boost yields even beyond the records of the last bumper harvests.

Not all of the estimated 6,000 persons swarming over the 300 acres of depleted land at Rio Grande College were farmers. Many were sportsmen interested in the wild life project on the program, business men concerned with agriculture and professional conservationists.

Twelve hundred automobiles were parked in the area.

Among the observers were Frank N. Farnsworth, state director of agriculture; Hugh Bennett, chief of U. S. soil conservation service, Washington, D. C.; Louis Bromfield, Richland County author and farmer, and J. B. McLaughlin, commissioner of agriculture of West Virginia.

Farmers, many of whom still follow not so modern methods of farming, watched jeeps, tractors and power attachments do the little jobs that cost them many hours of heavy manual labor at home.

The biggest crowd was attracted to the forestry project which ranged from planting seedling trees to harvesting and sawing mature timber.

As the big crowd watched the portable sawmills in operation, Frank Needham, farm forester of the state division of forestry, said the sawmills 'may mark a new day in utilization of the average (Please Turn to Page Two)

Parents Are Reunited For Operation of Baby

SEPARATED AND RECONCILED during a court battle over surgery, Fred Lamphere, 23, of Chicago and his wife Irene, 21, parents of 23-month-old Pamela, wait anxiously in Chicago's Cook County hospital while surgeons perform the first of three scheduled operations to correct a rare bladder malformation. The baby was born with an inverted bladder outside her body. The mother opposed surgery until the court ordered the three operations. (International)

Little Pamela Lamphere Is 'Just Fine' After Surgery Started to Save Life

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—(P)—Little Pamela Lamphere was "getting along just fine" today in county hospital where she underwent the first of a series of operations for a rare bladder condition.

The surgery was performed yesterday and doctors pronounced it "very successful." The 22-month-old child was born with her bladder outside her body, a condition endangering her life.

The question of whether or not to operate nearly wrecked the marriage of her father and mother, Fred, 23, and Irene, 21. The father wanted the operation but the mother didn't want to risk it. When they took their dispute to court, Pamela's case attracted nationwide attention which disclosed instances of other children surviving similar operations.

This news comforted the mother, who agreed to the treatment and became reconciled with her husband. The time of the next in the series of three operations has not been set definitely but it is expected to take place in about three weeks.

Freshmen at OSU Briefed by Prexy

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23—(P)—President Howard L. Bevis gave 3,500 freshmen to understand last night that Ohio State University must be more than a football team and a campus.

"Ohio State University must become an increasing measure," he told them at orientation week convocation, "a great regional center of graduate study, professional training and scientific research."

Plane Wreckage Found 5 Years after Crash

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 23—(P)—An American hunter today recounted details of the discovery of a five-year-old plane wreck and 11 bodies.

The U.S. Air Force transport was found in mountainous country near Fort Nelson, B. C.

The Edmonton Journal had said nearly $500,000 in gold and currency were aboard the ship. It carried seven American servicemen and four civilians—three of them Canadians.

(In Washington, United Air Force headquarters discounted the reports that a large sum was aboard the plane but confirmed that the five-year-old wreck had been found.)

Platform Set Up By Ohio GOP At Convention

Farm Co-Op Support And Health Program Are To Be Pledged

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23—(P)—Ohio Republican convention delegates may be asked today to approve a party platform calling for a stronger governmental hand in state health problems—both physical and mental.

A tentative draft of the platform was released before submission to the resolutions committee of the state convention, opening today. State Republican Chairman Fred H. Johnson noted that the 24 planks all were "subject to change" but added:

"They are the result of weeks of diligent application by the executive, legislative, congressional, and departmental branches of our government. Suggestions from dozens of organizations or groups have been weighed carefully. We are confident we have developed a platform which will merit the approval of a majority of the people of Ohio."

In addition to the plank on public health, the most far-reaching in the proposed platform, the draft contained a promise, in the agriculture sections, of "support of the principle of farmer-owned and farmer-operated cooperatives."

This was expected to set off hard talk in the resolutions committee and possibly on the convention floor because of the always touchy subject of taxation of farm cooperatives. They pay no federal income tax on a theory that their rebates to members are not profits.

One of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's first battles when he took office nearly two years ago was over the appointment of Edwin J. Bath as state fair manager and secretary of the state board of agriculture, at an $8,000 salary, and Bath's subsequent denunciation of his former employer, the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, an organization of county farm cooperatives.

In the public health section, the draft called for "a strong, independent state health department, adequately financed with state funds" and support "of effective local health districts staffed with trained, full-time personnel."

The draft also took hold of another hot topic, aid to local governments. Many contend they are not getting their fair share of the sales and other taxes returned in part to the point of collection. The platform read:

"While substantial progress has been made both in stabilizing local government revenues and increasing state aid to local governments the Republican party recognizes that the problem is an ever-changing one. Some political subdivisions are in financial distress and further state assistance either in the form of direct aid or the release to local governments of funds (Please Turn to Page Sixteen)

27 Are Indicted at Lancaster For 'Hot Meat' and Gambling

LANCASTER, Sept. 23—(P)—A Fairfield County grand jury today named 27 persons in secret indictments following an investigation of gambling and sales of stolen meat. The jury also recommended Mayor Fred Vonstein and Police Chief Samuel Hutsler be cited for "gross neglect of duty" and "condoning gambling."

The jury, in reporting to Common Pleas Judge Harry Kilburger, said it had questioned 53 witnesses.

There was no breakdown as to how many persons were indicted in connection with meat stolen from the Swift & Co. plant in Columbus. However, it appeared the jury placed its emphasis on gambling conditions.

The report said that stories in "out-of-town newspapers" were "exaggerated and erroneous" in dealing with the stolen meat situation. Four Swift employees and two Lancaster men recently were indicted in Franklin County (Columbus) on charges of either stealing meat, or accepting it for sale.

Jury foreman T. L. Hewitson presented the report, which recommended that Mayor Vonstein be cited to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert for "gross neglect of duty" and "condoning gambling within the city of Lancaster."

The jury made the same accusations against Chief Hutsler, declaring he should be cited to the civil service commission.

Judge Kilburger said none of those indicted would be named publicly until they are taken into custody by Sheriff Harley Highley. The judge said it would be sometime this afternoon before all the warrant could be prepared.

Residents in this community of 25,000 heard a flood of rumors as to who was involved.

Franklin County authorities have reported that some Lancaster residents purchased meat stolen from the Swift plant. Police Chief Hutsler was one of those ridiculing the reports.

Trailers Recovered But Steel Is Missing

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 23—(P)—Four trailers which thieves hauled away from a parking lot here last week-end were recovered yesterday, but their 50-ton cargo of sheet steel, valued at $7,000 and worth about $20,000 on the black market, was missing. Two trailers were found near the Pennsylvania state line. The steel was from Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Farm Mortgage Interest Going Up

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—(P)—The days when farm mortgages at 4 percent interest will still be available are definitely numbered, R. I. Nowell, second vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, advised mortgage bankers today.

He said his company was "now in the process of raising interest rates on all loans to 4½ percent in most areas on the west coast, much of the mountain area and on the Atlantic seaboard."

Farm loans at 4 percent are no longer attractive, since rates on other types of investments have been strengthening, Nowell said in an address before the convention of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America here.

"Unless farm loans can be made to show a better net yield," he said, "funds simply will not con-

Cleanup Job Is Started In Florida

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 23—(P)—Severe gales of near-hurricane force threatened the British island of Bermuda today as a hurricane that left three dead and an estimated $25,000,000 damage in Florida expanded at sea.

An 11 A. M. weather bureau advisory said heavy gales will cover the area from near the Carolina coast to and beyond Bermuda.

Winds along the Carolina coast will be fresh to rather strong, but no dangerous winds are expected on shore. Small craft were warned to stay in port.

"It is now a very large storm with gale winds covering a radius of 250 miles or more, and hurricane-force winds are over a 50 to 60 mile radius," the advisory stated.

Winds of over 100 miles an hour exist at the center.

Heavy gales will cover an area from near the Carolina coast to and beyond Bermuda.

"Bermuda should prepare for severe gales of near-hurricane force," the advisory stated.

The hurricane moved into the Atlantic yesterday after crossing Cuba and Florida. In Cuba, six persons were killed and the damage estimated at $3,000,000.

Winds were diminishing along the Florida coast as the state began a mammoth cleanup job under a bright sun.

The ponderous storm needed 30 hours to travel through Florida on a 240-mile line from Key West to Jensen Beach, attended by thrash-

Court Upholds Labor Law

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—(P)—The U. S. circuit court of appeals upheld today the constitutionality of the non-Communist requirement of the Taft-Hartley law. At the same time the court held that pension plans are a fit subject for collective bargaining.

The section of the act requiring union officials to sign non-Communist affidavits was upheld by Judges Otto Kerner and Sherman Minton. Judge J. Earl Major held the requirement is unconstitutional.

The court's opinion was on petitions of the Inland Steel Company and the CIO United Steelworkers Union asking that a national labor relations board order be set aside.

The court unanimously upheld the NLRB in ordering Inland Steel to bargain with the CIO Union concerning retirement pension plans.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23—(P)—Powell Clesley, Jr., claimed a record today for his company making light-weight automobiles, the Crosley Motors, Inc. With declarations of a 12½ cent dividend on common, he said the company was the first organized since the war in the field to put its common on a paying basis.

Reply Demanded On Proposal on Crisis in Berlin

Americans Seized By Reds But Soon Given Their Release

PARIS, Sept. 23—(P)—The United States, Britain and France began a tense wait today for Russia's next move in the east-west crisis over Berlin.

The foreign ministers of the three western powers and their aides, as well as high officials from 58 countries here for the United Nations assembly meeting, were gravely conscious that what happens in the next week may affect the course of world peace.

The three western nations addressed identical notes to the Kremlin last night calling for a yes or no answer to this question:

Is a Berlin settlement possible along lines already broadly drawn at recent conferences in Moscow and Berlin?

Ominous Statement

Topmost in the minds of the western diplomats and the U.N. delegates were British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's ominous words to the British House of Commons yesterday during the course of a statement on Berlin.

"I am not saying that we are committed to war," Bevin told the House. "We have not reached that stage yet."

Bevin's two negatives were interpreted by the world's leading statesmen here as having a pessimistic ring.

No one would venture to guess what the Russian leaders will reply to the American, British and French notes. The answer is not expected from Moscow before early next week.

U.S. Policy Outlined

Secretary of State Marshall said today in a thinly veiled warning to the Soviet Union that American patience should not be mistaken for weakness.

Marshall outlined the United States' basic foreign policy in speech to the fall session of the United Nations general assembly.

He referred to the Russians and their six eastern European satellite states.

"Spy Queen" Facing Libel Suit Threat

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(P)—William W. Remington, temporarily suspended commerce department official, today threatened to file a "substantial" libel suit against Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, confessed former Russian spy.

In testimony before senate investigating committee, Miss Bentley named Remington as a man from whom she collected Communist party dues as well as secret government information in wartime. Remington has denied the charges.

Remington said he would base his suit on an ABC television program, "Meet the Press," on which Miss Bentley appeared on Sunday, Sept. 12.

At a news conference, Remington made public a letter he has written to Miss Bentley demanding "a satisfactory public retraction" no later than noon, Sept. 30.

AKRON, Sept. 23—(P)—Allen White, 3, was killed yesterday when he caught his arm in a washing machine wringer in a community laundry at a trailer park.

Orchestra Leader Wins Fair Ribbon For Corn Relish

POMONA, Calif., Sept. 23—(P)—Billy Mills, Hollywood orchestra leader, is bound to hear about this from the gag writers.

He took a second place ribbon yesterday at Los Angeles County Fair for —shucks, gals—his corn relish.

On a different note, Mills also placed second in the dill, pickle competition.

Mills says he comes by the corn naturally. It's an old prize-winning recipe of his grandmother's.

Short Session Held by Council Mere Routine

Little Business
Was on Agenda and
Two Were Absent

Some sort of record for brevity must have been set by the Washington C. H. council Wednesday night.

The session was held in the ground floor main office room in an almost informal atmosphere, and it lasted less than 15 minutes.

It was, of course, merely routine designed to pave the way for an "adjourned session" Friday night when the regular routine business will be taken up.

The highlight of the evening was the first appearance in several weeks of Councilman Frank Snyder. He has been confined to his home by illness. That was the reason the city's lawmakers did not trudge up the stairs to their chamber and back down again.

Everything was set before the meeting was called to order.

Judge Robert Sites the president of council was absent because of illness and Richard R. Willis, the vice president, was out of the city.

With Councilmen Roy Baughn and John Boone on one side of the desks, Councilman Snyder on the other and Miss Marie Melvin the clerk at her desk with City Manager Winston W. Hill opposite her, the session got under way as Boone called the meeting to order. Boone had been chosen as president pro-tem.

Miss Melvin read the minutes of the last meeting—and that is what took up virtually all of the time. They were approved without discussion.

A motion to hold an "adjourned session" Friday night was passed in a matter of seconds and adjournment was approved as a matter of routine.

There was little of importance to come up anyway, as near as the councilmen there could determine.

Expressions of regret were offered afterward to Miss Melvin who had herself sent her own regrets for a formal dinner party.

Farming Wonders

farm woodlot for construction and maintenance of farm structures. "Mobile sawmills," he said, "will enable average farmer to harvest usable timber from his own woods on a selective cutting basis, have it cut right on his own premises, to his own specifications and keep his slabs for use or sale as fuel wood."

The workers today included more than 600 on-the-job training agricultural students from Rio Grande College and high school classes from Scioto, Jackson, Meigs, Vinton and Gallia Counties.

Most of the equipment and materials were provided by farm equipment manufacturers, seed dealers and fertilizer manufacturers.

More than 600 men, armed with every known agricultural tool, were assembled to swarm over a 300-acre Gallia County tract belonging to Rio Grande College, bent on accomplishing four years of farm work in two days.

It was the start of the Ohio Valley second frontier program, which will extend through Friday. The thousands of visitors are to witness the demonstration of the soil conservation techniques developed by private, state and federal agencies.

Fields are to be redesigned by contour plowing, diversion ditches built, and farm ponds and covered fence rows installed to insure wildlife habitat.

The workers will be "on-the-job-training" agricultural students. At their disposal to accomplish the huge task is more than a million and a half dollars worth of farm machinery, including tractors, Jeeps with all types of attachments designed for particular jobs, bulldozers, lime spreaders, seeders, planters, dirt movers and trucks.

The various events are to be directed by soil conservation technicians county agricultural extension agents, soil conservation district supervisors and officials of participating state agencies.

Beyond the immediate job of restoring the 300 acres of depleted ground in record time, is the long-range goal of leading conservationists sponsoring the second frontier show. That long-range goal is a silt free Ohio River Valley.

Mainly About People

Mr. Bert Wilson was brought from his home in Bloomingburg to the Evans Nursing Home, Thursday morning in the Gerstner ambulance.

Mrs. Pearl Coe was returned from Grant Hospital, Columbus, to the Leeth Nursing Home, Tuesday afternoon in the Max Morrow invalid coach.

Miss Ruth Agle, of Jeffersonville, is enrolled in the fall term at Ohio State University, Columbus, and is a freshman in the economics department of the college of agriculture.

Mrs. Herbert Vincent, of New Halland, twin sister of Mrs. Helen Plymire of this city, is improving slowly from a major operation at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, Tuesday.

Miss Jane Riber, who attended Monticello College in Alton, Ill., the past year has enrolled in the school of economics in the college of agriculture at Ohio State University, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hidy, of the Hoppes Road, are announcing the birth of a six-pound fourteen-ounce son, Phillip Elwood, in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, Tuesday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Rhoad, nee Jean Cavine, of Hilliards, have named their infant daughter, born at their home September 18, Mary Ann. Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Cavine are the grandparents.

Mr. Henry (Bud) Brownell was returned from Doctor's Hospital, Columbus, to his home, 424 East Street, Thursday about noon in the Kiever ambulance. Mr. Brownell is recovering from a major operation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Huntington are the parents of a seven-pound daughter, Pamela Ann, born at their home in Chillicothe, Wednesday evening. Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Huntington, of this city, are the great-grandparents.

Richard Underwood, son of Patrolman and Mrs. Clifford Underwood, is now at his home, 720 Delaware Street, where he is recovering rapidly from a major operation performed recently in University Hospital, Columbus.

Pvt. Mills Bryan Holler, Jr., who enlisted in the army last Aug. 23, is now at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., for basic training. The 20-year-old Washington C. H. youth has been assigned to the 101st Airborne Division.

Mrs. Freda Frump, former manager of the Italy Store here, who underwent a major operation in St. Anthony Hospital, Columbus, recently was brought to the home of her sister, Mrs. Orion Baird, 207 1/2 East Court Street, Wednesday afternoon in the Kiever ambulance.

Rio Grande land was selected for the project because it is typical of Ohio Valley soil continuously eroded and robbed of its food-producing richness.

C. J. Martin, director of national conservation days, said today that "despite flood-control dams, our precious topsoil silt the river valley every spring. This new effort is to fight the waste at the very root of the evil."

ing winds up to 160 miles an hour. Tremendous property damage was reported at Key West, in the choice Indian River citrus area and to vegetable crops along the southern and eastern rim of Lake Okeechobee.

Key West alone estimated loss at one million dollars, principally to its waterfront and shipping. More than 100 pleasure and commercial boats were sunk. Many were smashed to pieces. A 200-foot dock was swept out to sea and the city's two principal commercial docks badly damaged.

The greater Miami area was buffeted by gale winds for more than 30 hours and eight inches of rain flooded the streets. Nearly 18,000 telephones in Miami were put out of order and electric service disrupted in many sections. Miami Beach reported only minor damage.

Grapefruit was stripped from trees in area hit by the storm and some of that left on was scarred or thorned.

AMERICANS RELEASED

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Eight American constabulary troops were picked up by the Russians along the zonal border in three days, but all have been returned, the U. S. Army announced today.

Constabulary officials said in each case the troopers, patrolling the border, had been accused by the Russians of crossing over into the Soviet zone.

The Communists accused Friedensburg, a Christian Democrat, of "anti-Soviet provocations" which they said no longer could be tolerated.

The new attack indicated a Communist campaign to drive the executive branch of the government from their headquarters in city hall, which is in the Soviet sector of Berlin. Communist rioters already have driven out the city assembly and forced it to seek refuge in the British sector.

The Nation Today

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

That's an interesting though not particularly adroit exhibition of the old shell-game given by Russia in announcing that she will withdraw her troops from northern Korea by the new year, and calling on Uncle Sam to pull out of the south.

On the face of it this is a big-hearted gesture of amity, and is calculated thus to impress the unwary. However, we may be quite sure that if American troops did withdraw from southern Korea, the Bolsheviks would move to take over quicker than you could lose a silver dollar by trying to guess which shell the elusive pea is under.

This isn't to say that the United States might not decide to withdraw. That's a dish which still is on the fire. There are two schools of thought on this subject of withdrawal. One holds that it would be a strategic error to pull out. The other maintains that it's a mistake to stay since there is such a thing as spreading your strength too thin, and furthermore America has military forces in neighboring Japan.

Whether Russia will indeed withdraw if the United States does not, remains to be seen. The Muscovites might pull back across the frontier into Manchuria in any event. And why not? Northern Korea has been thoroughly communized. A Soviet government has been established, and it's an open secret that the country is overrun with the Bolshevik armed secret police which spearhead the setting up of any Soviet regime. We've seen the ruthless efficacy of such police in countries like Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Moreover the Russians have organized and equipped a big Korean army in their northern zone and, judging from past events, we may be sure this force is heavily officered by Russians. Thus if the Muscovites did pull back into Manchuria, there still would remain a big "Korean" force of soldiers and police which could be used to invade southern Korea with the idea of overthrowing the new republic there and consolidating the two zones under the Communist regime of the north. As a matter of fact, the Red government has broadcast its intention of smashing the southern republic.

Korea is small, but strategically she is a mighty atom. For centuries the Korean peninsula, which projects down between the sea of Japan and the Yellow Sea from Manchuria and Siberia, stood between Japan and her continental ambitions. No wonder Japan complained that Korea was "a dagger pointing at her heart." Controlled

Green Renews Attack on Taft

NLRB Intimidation
By Ohioan Charged

ST. LOUIS Sept. 23—(AP)—William Green today accused Senator Taft (R-Ohio) of "outright intimidation" of National Labor Board attorneys in the International Typographical union case.

The president of the American Federation of Labor made his criticism of Taft in a speech prepared for delivery at the convention of the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers.

President Truman last week said Taft had attempted to "put the heat" on board attorneys by calling them into conference, in the presence of Chicago newspaper representatives, to suggest the board take further court action against the ITU.

Taft replied it was common practice and the obligation of members of Congress to intervene with executive agencies of the government in behalf of constituents. Taft added that Mr. Truman's remarks showed that the "silly season" was on in politics.

Taft is a member of Senate House committee set up to watch operations of the Taft-Hartley Act and to recommend by March 1 any changes deemed advisable.

Green said that within a few weeks after the conference in which Taft took part the board's general counsel "cracked down with a vengeance against the ITU."

The general counsel's office asked that the union be found in by Communism, Korea would be a dagger pointing at the heart of peace. Certainly it enters into the picture of the great new Red offensive to overrun the Orient.

Washington's response to the Russian announcement about withdrawal is that American troops of occupation will remain in Korea until the United Nations general assembly considers the Korean situation at Paris. The state department said the United States has no intention of withdrawing troops forthwith.

What ever action the assembly may take, one assumes that it will represent the views of the anti-Communist states, since they are in the majority.

contempt for allegedly violating a federal court injunction issued last March prohibiting the ITU from trying to obtain a closed shop in its newspaper negotiations. The Taft-Hartley Act outlaws the closed shop as such.

A hearing on the NLRB complaint is being held this week in Indianapolis.

Green said board attorneys had asked the court to forbid the union to continue paying strike benefits to the employees of Chicago newspapers, on strike since last November.

"In my judgment," Green said, "nothing more shocking has yet been attempted under the Taft-Hartley Act. This is a case of the government asking the courts to help break a strike by starving out the wives and children of the strikers. It illustrates more powerfully than anything else could, the evil nature of the Taft-Hartley Act and the profound dangers to which free labor in America has been subjected by the return of 'government by injunction.'"

"Senator Taft's constituency is the state of Ohio. The case he intervened in involves four newspapers published in Chicago, which, if my geography is correct, is located in the state of Illinois. Since when is the state of Illinois part of Senator Taft's constituency?"

"It is true that one of the publishers present at the conference in Senator Taft's office also owns a newspaper in Akron, Ohio. But that Ohio newspaper had nothing to do with the case at hand. For that matter, Senator Taft and members of his family also own a newspaper published in Ohio. The very fact that Senator Taft has a financial interest as a newspaper owner makes it all the more improper for him to intervene in behalf of publishers against a union."

The other day a furry stranger used the special entrance.

The disturbed family called police who snared the skunk and shot it.

Impractical Home Purchases Result of Rental Shortages

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—If you're paying the traditional week's wages for one month's rent, then it's costing you twice the average rent-payer's outlay, a government report shows.

Some 17,000,000 Americans were paying out an average of 12 percent of their monthly income for rent at the start of the year, the Federal Reserve Board said. The median rent was $30—which means half the nation's renters paid more than that, the other half less.

The reserve board also disclosed that the number of home owners has risen to a record 18,500,000 total. And it indicated that many of these wish they were renters instead.

"The acute shortage of rental units has no doubt forced many families to buy homes, often at inflated prices and somewhat beyond their means, simply in order to obtain shelter," the report said.

The survey, which did not cover people who own or rent farms, also showed:

Some 2,000,000 families were sharing other families' quarters rent-free.

Families with low income paid out a bigger slice for rent, with a top of 21 percent for those with incomes under $2,000. Families earnings $5,000 or more, averaged only nine percent for rental payments.

Wage Hike Offered To Phone Workers

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—(AP)—An offer of wage increases ranging up to $6 weekly for 25,000 telephone workers is being studied by the CIO American Union of Telephone Workers.

The offer was made yesterday by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company during wage negotiations.

Although a union spokesman said the offer "appears to be highly unsatisfactory," he said the union "is continuing to examine" it.

The wage offer, which would affect workers in 42 states and the District of Columbia, would give plant craftsmen increases up to $6 and operators and clerical employes increases up to $4, the company said.

NO Russian A-Bomb American Convinced

PARIS, Sept. 23—(AP)—Russia probably has not yet produced an atom bomb, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said last night. He indicated it might take the Soviets another five years to make one.

McNaughton, Canada's representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, said in an interview that "we are quite certain Russia has not yet produced an atomic bomb."

"The United States, Britain and Canada have leadership in atomic energy developments despite feverish Russian attempts to produce a bomb of their own," he said.

"There is no cause now for hysteria. We have a short time—perhaps five years—in which to reach a system on international atomic control before a time for hysteria really arrives."

Brown Deserves Credit For This Effort

If our congressman from this district, Hon. Clarence J. Brown, had accomplished nothing more in his many years of useful public service, than to sponsor and bring about the congressional authorization of the Hoover commission to study needed re-organization of the federal government, he would have achieved something which should make this district proud of him for all time.

This commission of which Brown, as an active member, is aiding former President Herbert Hoover in studying much needed reforms of our present federal government's cumbersome system of administration, its overlapping bureaus and commissions, its duplication of activities with all the waste and extravagance that has grown up in the present system, hopes to present to Congress next January recommendations that will mean more efficiency and less expenditure.

In the last 16 years or more our federal government administration has expanded to a degree that makes it almost unworkable at times. In many offices and bureaus there are at least three people doing what one person should be expected to do. In addition to this, it has been pointed out, many of these bureaus and agencies of government are engaged in duplication of work causing endless confusion and almost unbelievable inefficiency.

Senator Byrd of Virginia, an ardent Democrat, is another who for years has been fighting this all-consuming octopus, as have a number of far-seeing individuals in both major parties.

The commission, headed by former President Hoover, is entirely non-partisan in character and is approaching this problem from the viewpoint of attempting, with the aid of some of the best minds in the nation, to accomplish something that most people have long recognized as being vitally needed. Few in positions of authority, however, seemed willing to try to actually get this needed reform. Politics and pressure groups entered into the picture in helping to thwart constructive efforts to this end.

Now, it is hoped, something may be done about it. It's surely about time. The public will benefit by better government and the taxpayer may obtain some relief.

Vanishing Pleasure

One by one the Great Lakes passenger steamers are disappearing. One of the few remaining, the Greater Buffalo which ran between Cleveland and Buffalo before the war, and during it became the aircraft carrier Sable, is now being scrapped. The whole Cleveland and Buffalo line wound up a few years ago.

Ships still ply between Cleveland and Detroit, and between Detroit and Buffalo, but not many of them. Ferries still cross Lake Michigan, Lake Huron and Lake Erie, but most of them are reduced to one or two trips a day. Pleasure boats sailing out of harbor cities along the lakes are becoming fewer. Gone, except for occasional cruises, are the trips that once took place three times a week between Buffalo and Duluth.

Lake boat riding was thought fun by the passengers. The automobile seems to have killed it. Some one perhaps can tell why sailing on a broad expanse of water seems to be less fun than crawling along a crowded highway on a Sunday afternoon.

Fuzzy Has A Long Voyage Home

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—The epic sufferings of Sunday drivers usually leave me cold.

I am a lifelong, a repentant pedestrian. I don't mind listening to the hardships of Sabbath motorists, but when their tales of woe are finished I usually still have two dry eyes.

My theory is they deserve what happens to them for venturing out on crowded highways for week-end excursions when they could stay comfortably home in bed and read a Sunday newspaper.

But I make an exception in the case of Joseph (Fuzzy) Macaskill, and old friend who lives in Queens. Never was an innocent Scotchman more unfairly set upon by fate.

Here is the story of Macaskill's long voyage from and to home: Fuzzy set out on a Sunday afternoon in a 15-year-old car to inspect five lots he had bought in a new real estate development. He took along his five-year-old daughter, Estelle, and his 22-year-old brother-in-law.

Upon reaching the development site, somewhere south of the Canadian border, Fuzzy was told by a local settler that his five lots were five miles down a one-way dirt road. One mile farther on he met a man who told him the lots were three miles in the opposite direction.

Fuzzy couldn't turn around. He had to back out the entire mile to his original starting point.

It was getting dark. He drove on through the wilderness for ten minutes, then reached the peak of a small hill. Fuzzy got out to investigate and found that if he had gone ten feet farther he'd have topped his car into a 15-foot ditch across the uncompleted road.

He dragged a small tree across to keep the next motorist from falling in, and decided to start back home without seeing his property. On the way he stopped and bought a bushel of apples, a 50-pound bag of potatoes and two gallon jugs of cider.

Night settled. Fuzzy found his car lights weren't working. He stopped again and bought some bulbs. Still no lights. So he turned on his spotlight, which worked on a separate battery, and plowed forward.

A motorcycle cop drove up and said, emergency or no emergency, the spotlight was against the law. So Fuzzy was escorted to a brick court house and noticed a bronze plaque that said:

"This courthouse built with the fines of offending motorists."

"Leave $10 bail for appearance at 10 A. M. Tuesday," he was told. Fuzzy offered to leave his battered car instead but the cop said: "We don't want that piece of junk around."

Dewey His Team and Methods

By George E. Sokolsky

It is only natural that speculation concerning the Dewey cabinet should intrigue political writers and magazine editors. Few of them will prove correct when the time comes for appointment. I do not know any more about it than my confreres, nor do I believe that Gov-

Dewey is very much better posted on the subject at this moment.

Governor Dewey is not one of those swelling chested big city personalities who slaps every man he meets in the back and promises him his heart's content. A small town person, shy, slow to form personal friendships, he avoids commitments. Some Republicans, who do not understand Dewey and his team and their methods, may have assumed that silence, in the face of an expressed wish, means consent. But that is not Dewey's nature. When he does say a thing, it has not been promised. It has taken New Yorkers a decade to learn that.

Most of the guesses center on the Dewey team in Albany but the wildest speculations are being publicized about so-called eligibles. The Dewey team is not a coterie of personal friends or a kitchen cabinet. It is a responsible body of extraordinarily loyal and skilled men and women who share with the governor of the state of New York his work, political and administrative. Here I list them with their titles in alphabetical order:

Glen R. Bedenkapp, chairman, New York Republican state committee; Elliott V. Bell, state superintendent of banks; R. Burdell Bixby, assistant secretary; Charles D. Breitell, counsel to Dewey; Herbert Brownell, Jr., manager of the 1948 campaign; John E. Burton, director of the budget; Alger B. Chapman, commissioner of taxation and finance and president of the state tax commission; John Foster Dulles; Hamilton Gaddis, assistant secretary; James C. Hagerty, executive assistant; Edwin Jaekle, chairman Erie County Republican committee; Harold Keller, commissioner department of commerce; Paul E. Lockwood, secretary; William T. Pfeiffer; Hickman Powell; J. Russell Sprague, Republican national committeeman; Roger Williams Straus; Jane H. Todd, vice-chairman, New York Republican state committee; Mrs. Charles W. Weiss, Jr., Republican national committeewoman.

Obviously, all of these persons cannot be on his cabinet because they are all from New York and no president could afford to load his cabinet too heavily with members from one state or even one section of the country.

It is therefore correct to assume that whatever cabinet Dewey appoints is likely to be nationwide in personnel and broadly representative of varying segments of the Republican party. Supported wholeheartedly even by those who opposed his nomination, he would indeed be inept if he overlooked the unanimity in the Republican party and if he failed to maintain it as president.

Furthermore, he is bound to have a narrow margin in the Senate during his first two years in office and he will therefore not antagonize any part of his party by producing a cabinet of cronies.

Dewey's success in New York was not a one-man job. This he has recognized and advertised. He organized his state operation as a businessman would a vast undertaking, delegating authority and responsibility and giving public acknowledgement of the fact. This characteristic is so much a part of the man's nature that he will undoubtedly so organize the federal administration. A cabinet member will be a responsible official, not an underling of the presidential whim. No officer of a Dewey administration will be able to write as Secretary of State Hull did that he was unfamiliar with some of his responsibilities because the president acted without consulting him.

Therefore, Mr. Dewey will have to have toponotch men in his cabinet because only such men will be able to exercise authority and assume responsibility. Some of those mentioned in the various guesses are not such men and therefore will not be appointed. Some of the guesses were inevitable because of their past history on Dewey's team but they will not be appointed because of geographical disqualification. Some of the guesses are fantastic because of Dewey's habit of checking upon a man's past, his abilities, and his associations. And most of all Dewey personally despises the stuffed-shirt—the man who is mostly front with little substance.

My guess is that Dewey will begin to tackle the problem on November 3 and not one day before that.

Diet and Health

Condition of Lungs For Elderly People

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DURING the past few decades medical science has learned how to prolong life, so that today more people are living to a ripe old age than ever before. Unfortunately, however, we have not yet mastered the secret of making this longer life vigorous and pleasant in all cases. Today, for instance, we know that many elderly people are plagued by a condition of the lungs known as bronchiectasis, in which the tubes of the lungs are dilated and filled with foul-smelling secretion. This results in a great deal of coughing, extreme fatigue, and loss of weight.

Simple Methods

A good many forms of treatment for this condition have been suggested, including operation to remove the damaged parts of the lung. In general, however, the best results seem to be obtained by the more simple methods designed to promote drainage, control infection, and build up the general state of health. Since the structure of the lungs is damaged, there is not very much that can be done to bring about a cure.

Drainage of the secretion from the lungs can best be carried out by having the patient lie on a high bed or table. If he then leans over the side and places his hands on the floor, the fluids from the lungs drain satisfactorily. Thinning of the secretion by giving the patient such preparations as iodides, ammonium chloride or creosote, and the breathing in of steam may be helpful. Such preparations as adrenalin or ephedrine, when inhaled through an atomizer, may speed up the loosening of the secretions. Furthermore, deep breathing before and during the drainage will help empty the secretions. This drainage should be carried out often enough to keep the dilated bronchi as free as possible from secretions.

(Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Infection in cases of bronchiectasis may be controlled by the use of penicillin. The penicillin may be given by injection into a muscle or breathed into the lungs in the form of a dust or vapor. It is advisable to carry out the drainage before the penicillin is breathed in. The benefits obtained from the penicillin are, of course, only temporary; that is, they control the infection but do not get rid of the dilated bronchi.

One of the sulfonamide drugs, such as sulfadiazine may be used over a long period of time with benefit. However, the patients sometimes experience unfavorable reactions to these preparations, so they must be used only as the physician directs. The doctor, by regular examination, can determine if any such reactions are occurring and will stop the preparation when necessary.

The patient with bronchiectasis should do everything possible to protect himself against such infections as colds, should build up his nutrition with proper diet, avoid exposure to cold and wet, sleep in warm, fresh air and, in some cases, avoid smoking. The use of these various measures by a patient with bronchiectasis often brings prompt relief from the symptoms.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. L.: My boy nine years old weighs 100 pounds, about ten pounds overweight. His muscles seem to be stiff and he is very awkward. What would you suggest?

Answer: It is advisable that the child be carefully studied by a neurologist and an orthopedic specialist to determine the cause of his difficulties.

The condition may not be abnormal. On the other hand, there may be some damage to the nervous system which has produced the muscular disorder.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand—(AP)—Auckland's white mice are laughing at this city's proudest ferret.

They're laughing because the ferret claimed to have made animal history by doing an electrician's job in a factory.

The ferret hit the news when it followed the smell of a dead rabbit through a maze of glazed piping under the factory. Behind it, the ferret trailed a length of fishing line. This enabled electric wires to be pulled through. But the city's white mice are not impressed. "Old stuff," they say.

Their most famous ancestor, they claim, did a similar job 20 years ago. Wires had to be got through a long length of conduit under a building in the city. The tame white mouse was borrowed, a length of thread was tied to its tail, and it was sent scampering down the narrow pipe to appear a few minutes later at the other end. By the cotton a string was pulled through the pipe and with the string the electric wire was threaded. "Definitely old stuff," say the white mice.

Nicest Compliment I've Had

One of the nicest comments I've received about this column was from an editor in the Middle West I called on. And while I don't like to give myself orchids, I think it illustrates a point.

"Joe," he said, "it so happens I don't agree with everything you say, but I always like to run your column. Because it gets down to earth and talks about the right to disagree. And it only asks for tolerance towards the other person's point of view."

He went on to explain, by way of illustration, that he never had happened to have a taste for ale or beer. But that when I spoke of the right to enjoy a moderate beverage like beer, well, he was right there with me!

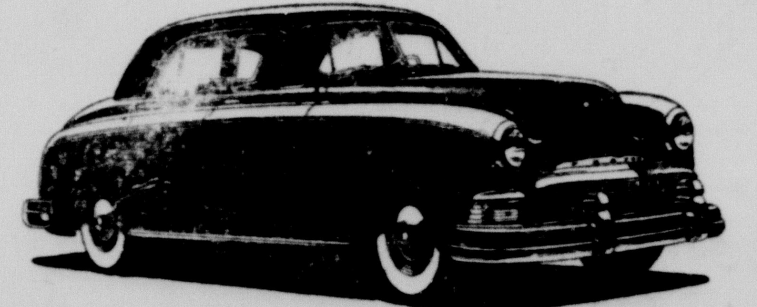

And from where I sit, that's the important thing: not whether you share another person's tastes or point of view—but whether you recognize his right to exercise a free choice in a free land.

Ohio in Center Of Industrial Building Area

792 New Buildings
In 8-State Section
Of Expansion Plans

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—An eight-state midwestern region is listed as surpassing all others in major new industrial construction during the first three postwar years. In it 792 plants worth more than $548,700,000 have been built. This report comes from an organization called the territorial information department, representing four private midwestern utilities. The study covers the period from July, 1945, through June, 1948. Figures are based on construction contracts awarded for factories or plant additions costing $100,000 or more.

The states included in the central region are Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin.

A belt of 11 southeastern states ranked second to the midwest in postwar industrial growth, accounting for 341 plants and additions worth $381,600,000.

Within the leading midwest, Ohio topped the eight-state list, with 180 plants costing $143,581,000. Illinois came next, having 203 costing $111,046,000.

The record of the others in the group:

Michigan, 84 plants, $96,001,000; Missouri, 78 plants, $59,196,000; Iowa, 30 plants, $50,198,000; Indiana, 75 plants, $46,230,000; Wisconsin, 73 plants, $25,735,000; Minnesota, 64 plants, $16,723,000. Expenditure per new plant in Iowa was higher than for other midwestern states. The number of new factories or additions in the state was low compared to its neighbors, but it stood fifth in the area in dollar volume of construction.

Strong as the central states were in their showing as a group, none managed to take first place individually in the nation. Top honors went to Texas, with 209 plants at a cost of $258,700,000. California was listed with 300 new establishments worth $167,400,000 to run second in dollar volume and first in number of plants.

The report points out that industrial expansion the nation over declined considerably in the second half of the three-year period studied, as compared with the first 18 months.

From July, 1945, through December, 1946, contracts were awarded for 1,454 plants in the United States with total outlay of $1,126,700,000. From January, 1947, through this June the totals were 932 plants costing $768,000,000.

Of the nation's total major new construction of $1,894,700,000 since soon after V-E Day, the eight central states have had 29 percent.

The 11 southeastern states accounted for 20 percent, the middle eastern group (six states and the District of Columbia) 19 percent, the four southwestern states (including Texas) 15 percent, and the far west 11 percent.

New England and a big block of northwestern states, including the Dakotas and Nebraska, each contributed just three percent of the total industrial growth for the three years.

Another of those amazing Walt Disney fantasies is coming to the Fayette Theater next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. "Melody Time" is the name and it tells the story of Johnny Appleseed, the legendary planter of apple trees along the frontier trails, in a tuncful Technicolor movie. Dennis Day, from a position off-scene, sings and narrates the adventures of the hero. Incidentally, Johnny Appleseed is said to have planted many of his apple trees right here in Fayette County.

There's Not One Man In House But Everybody In It Happy

By ELAINE KAHN

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 23—(AP)—The house on West Eleventh Street is bulging with 21 children, and eight mothers—all divorced except the pretty widow who runs the unusual boarding house.

"Not a man on the premises and everybody's happy," chuckled the widow, Mrs. Christine May, 30.

Mrs. May, the mother of two sons aged 10 and 3, opened the boarding house for divorced women three months ago.

"I'd like to see this idea of creating homes for divorcee-wrecked families spread," she said. "Maybe there should be some for husbands left with children. But it seems to me the wives are most in need of aid when our younger men run away from the responsibilities of a family."

After her husband's death in New England, Mrs. May returned to Erie, her home town. Like just about everywhere else, she found the housing problem bad.

"I had to board the boys out in two homes," she explained. "It cost me $186 a month and I had to take two jobs to make ends meet. So I decided to try a boarding house where I could solve my own problem and help other women."

The first step was to rent the 14-room house on West Eleventh Street. Two days after the opening her "home" was filled.

Two of the mothers are waitresses, three work in offices and two in factories. A mother with two children pays $25 a week for her room and breakfast, the children's meals and the washing.

During the day, Mrs. May is mother and nurse to the children, preparing their meals and supervising their play. The children are subject to her discipline.

Things were a bit complicated when eight cases of measles broke out, but the crisis was taken in stride. Eight of the kids started to school this fall, four for the first time.

Mrs. May has a definite philosophy about aiding broken families and insists that mothers take their children to their rooms around 7:30 each evening so they may have time to become better acquainted.

"The background of any child begins with the mental peace of mind of the mother," she said. "That is the only way that a child gets to feel security and self expression. Riches never make a child happy but a loving parent does."

Fall Social Season Opens With Lovely Dinner Bridge Given By Five Hostesses

The lovely autumn season was ushered in at the Washington Country Club on Wednesday evening with a beautiful party, when Mrs. Charles Reinke, Mrs. Samuel R. Parrett, Mrs. Ellet Kauffman, Mrs. Walter L. O'Brien and Mrs. Edward R. Hunt extended gracious hospitalities to more than one hundred guests at a beautifully appointed dinner bridge. The entire club lounge was softly lighted with yellow tapers in crystal candelabra with sprigs of greenery at the bases of each.

The mantels were banked with foliage dotted with yellow flowerlets, and a large basket of bronze and yellow mums in the foyer were especially admired.

The bronze and gold color scheme was carried out in detail and each of the twenty six tables seating the guests for the tempting three course dinner featured as the dainty centerpiece, yellow tapers in crystal candleholders, with fluffy bronze tulle bows, which held in place small yellow flowers, with the same colors predominating in the place card tallies daintily marking each cover.

The evening was most delightful in the congenial game and at the close of the several progressions the charming hostesses presented attractive awards in gold wrappings with huge bronze tulle bows, further carrying out the predominating theme.

Mrs. Hughey Thompson was the holder of high score and was presented with the first prize, Miss

Miss Campbell Is Councillor At College

Miss Claire Frances Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin C. Campbell, resumed her studies at Western College for Women, where she is a sophomore councillor.

Band Is Full of Enthusiasm For Cleveland Trip Sunday

The crack WHS marching band is going to Cleveland next Sunday full of enthusiasm and high hopes despite the obstacles it has had to overcome.

Never before has a WHS band had to work harder or toward a bigger goal than this year's edition.

On this both the band members and Bandmaster William B. Clift agree.

First of all, there were nearly 20 places in the ranks to be filled with inexperienced musicians. But that was done without much trouble.

But, to round out the band into an orderly and smooth marching unit was something that took both time and hard, persistent work.

But, Clift said: "The kids all have been wonderful. They have never backed up on the drills. They have never complained seriously although they were so tired sometimes they had to have a rest. They have been more anxious than anyone to have their band good and were more than willing to work to make it that way."

Weather Interfered

As for their music, there has not been much concern about that. But, just when the intensive final phases of the drills for the intricate and precision timed marching formations were getting started, the rain came.

Drills were held in the WHS gymnasium Monday and Tuesday nights. It was a help but admittedly that could not take the place of working out on the field. Practice was on the Gardner Park field Wednesday night.

The band is going to Jackson Friday night with the Lions for their football game. That is expected to be a big help in smoothing up the few remaining rough spots.

The decision to make the trip had been postponed until Wednesday evening because of the length of the trip.

Never has a practice been held on Saturday night, because so many of the band members have jobs they can't shirk.

Intensive practices on the music have been held regularly during school day afternoons in the auditorium; so there is not much worry on that score.

The only concern is for the formations which might suffer through the interruptions by the weather.

Big Day Sunday

Their big day is coming Sunday—the day they will long remember—when the band puts on its half-time show in the huge Cleveland Stadium at the Browns-Chicago Rockets football game.

The band is to leave here before dawn next Sunday by bus. The trip has been timed to reach Cleveland in time for a practice on the field and a drill with the Browns' Majorettes for a combined show, which is to be a part of the whole performance.

The band trip was sponsored by the Young Businessmen's Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and is being financed by contributions solicited through it.

Communist Movies Assailed by Czechs

PRAGUE — (AP) — Freedom of speech is muted but not dead on Czechoslovakia and newspaper readers can still write letters to the editor expressing a preference for American movies over the Russian variety. The newspaper "Mlada Fronta", a strong Communist supporter, has been campaigning against bad movies, bad music and bad stage shows. It cited the movie "Red Stallion", a western, as an example of the worst type of American movie, which should not be shown in Czechoslovakia. "Mlada Fronta" published the following unsigned letter of reaction:

"You are an ox to start such a campaign. Do you believe you represent the will of the people? Go and have a look at the box office of a cinema where an American picture is running and one where a Russian botch-work is running. There you will see the will of the people. If your campaign results in the withdrawal of American pictures and we are forced to see those Russian patch-ups, then after the war I'll beat you so that you will not forget it until your death."

A survey of titles playing at 17 first class movie theaters in Prague during a week in August showed this breakdown of movies by countries of origin: United States 10, Russia 3, France 2, Czechoslovakia 2.

Support Given Employment Of Handicapped

Business Spokesmen Favor "Employ The Handicapped Week"

"Handicapped workers in the shop and in the office have established an enviable record of efficiency." One Washington C. H. employer said in connection with National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week to be observed Oct. 3 to 9.

Spokesmen for both Washington C. H. and Ohio businessmen have gone on record in support of the objectives of the drive to employ the handicapped, according to Ward C. Miller, manager of the Washington C. H. office of the Ohio State Employment Service.

Miller quoted other statements from Washington C. H. businessmen in excerpt: "Because in our experience, we have found them to be consistently outstanding on the jobs assigned, and well able to make as complete a contribution to our program at their non-handicapped fellow workers, we plan to continue to add them to our employment rolls in the future."

"Handicapped workers employed by us are among our most industrious, efficient and careful workers." Another employer declared.

Miller stated that local employers should hire the physically handicapped because they have a low absentee record, a low turnover record, low accident record, higher efficiency record meaning more production per man per man-hour. The handicapped workers are more cautious and serious about their work. They want to hold jobs longer because getting a job is more difficult, Miller pointed out.

Speaking for the Ohio Chamber of Commerce of which he is executive director, H. C. Atkinson made it clear that the NEPH goal—the employment of all available physically handicapped but otherwise qualified persons—was of direct benefit to Ohio Business. "Business is constantly developing new jobs and new materials for employment of the physically handicapped," Atkinson said. "It is good business to encourage the full use of the talents of the handicapped and to make self-support possible for the men and women who carry the added burdens of physical misfortune."

A prominent spokesman for Ohio's retailers, George V. Sheridan, executive director of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants, left no doubt as to where his organization stood with respect to NEPH Week and the employment of qualified handicaps. "Retailers over the state have watched with interest and participated actively in the commendable program for the placement of the disabled," Sheridan said. "It is needless to say we are in complete sympathy with the October observance of a week that calls public attention to the capabilities of these men."

The first Atlantic cable was laid in 1858 between Newfoundland and Ireland.

"It is needless to say we are in complete sympathy with the October observance of a week that calls public attention to the capabilities of these men."

Fall Festival. At Sabina To Start Tuesday

Concerts Each Night And Big Parade Set For Final Afternoon

The third annual Fall Festival sponsored by the "Eden of Ohio" Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will get under way on the streets of Sabina Tuesday night.

The event will be held nightly through Saturday with a parade on Saturday afternoon.

Heading the list of nightly entertainment is the 661st Air Force Band of Wright Field which opens the Festival with concerts Tuesday evening.

Wednesday evening, Harry Mallott and his orchestra of Williamsburg will furnish hill-billy and western music.

Thursday evening will have concerts by the Wilmington Municipal Band featuring their "Band on the Ferris Wheel" specialty.

Friday evening's entertainment is yet to be announced and the final night, Saturday, will be a concert by the Clinton County 4-H Band.

The parade on Saturday afternoon will be led by the 62-piece 4-H Band and include an 80-piece Drum and Bugle Corps from the Columbus Lodge, Loyal Order of the Moose, and sponsored by the Sabina Moose Lodge. Among the floats will be representations from the Sabina municipal government, business firms, Boy and Girl Scouts, fraternal and other organizations.

A feature of the parade also will be a "Typical Home" float carrying the "Typical Family" to be chosen from Sabina and trading area by popular vote. Prizes will be awarded to the family chosen for this honor and to the Wayne, Connor, Reesville, and Sabina schools in inter-school competition for a decorated float.

Robert Stanforth, publicity director of the Clinton County Farm Bureau Ass'n., has offered his services to the V.F.W. Post in organizing the parade.

Many organizations and businesses have been invited to participate in both entertainment and advertising capacities and Commander Parker Wilson of the V.F.W. Post emphasized that the "welcome mat" is out to those who have not been contacted in this area.

Carnival rides and concessions will be included in the midway of the Festival.

Auto Club Busy On Drivers' Licenses

Offices of the Fayette County Auto Club have been "busy but not overcrowded" since the issuance of 1949 drivers' licenses started Sept. 7.

Larger crowds are anticipated, however, as the deadline nears. September 30 is the last day that the 1948 license can be used legally.

Howard C. Allen, secretary of the club said 3400 licenses, or about 600 more than were issued by the same date last year, had been issued to date.

Eight additional people have been added to the Auto Club staff full time to take care of license applicants. They are F. C. Elliott, Mrs. Frances Kline, Mrs. Patricia McGuire, Mrs. Martha Callon, Mrs. Dorothy Guinn, Miss Suzanne Willis, Miss Clara Story and Miss Ruth Smith.

What Is Beryllium? Safety Congress Told It Is in A-Bombs But It Has Produced Dangerous Disease

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Beryllium, a rare metal used in manufacture of atomic bombs, is a dangerous substance which has produced a disease called acute beryllium pneumonitis, a Cincinnati medical professor reported today.

Dr. Frank Dutra, professor at the Cincinnati University School of Medicine and a pathologist associated with the Kettering laboratories, spoke before the annual Ohio State safety conference.

He said he had made studies at Beryllium plants in Massachusetts and Lorain, O.

At the Massachusetts plant—which he did not name—"we found only six cases of 75 have recovered," he said. "The others have become progressively worse."

He said that with the exception of oxygen tents, no effective treatment had been found. Industry, however, is concentrating on preventive measures, the teacher added.

CHARGED with murder of his father is John David Heidenreich, 18, Kansas City, Mo. Heidenreich insisted he shot his parent, John Paul Heidenreich, a Kansas City manufacturer, in self-defense during a quarrel. (International)

He said figures have not yet been revealed on investigations at the Lorain plant, which he also did not mention by name.

A $125,000 damage suit recently was brought in federal court here against the Brush Beryllium Co. of Cleveland. The plaintiff, Mrs. Leda Sobocienski, 34, of Lorain, charged that "powder, dust, and gas" from the company's Lorain plant caused fatal damage to her husband's lungs.

Dr. Dutra said that "chronic cases of beryllium poisoning discovered in the neighborhood adjacent to the plants, rather than among those who work with the metal are different from pneumonia in that the course is more rapid, there is no fever and no sputum is produced."

He said that with the exception of oxygen tents, no effective treatment had been found. Industry, however, is concentrating on preventive measures, the teacher added.

Naples Port Getting Back To Pre-war

NAPLES —(AP)—Italy's worst war-damaged port will be back to normal within eight or ten months. That is the opinion of Dr. Gaetano Basso, engineer in charge of Naples harbor reconstruction, who has already carried out repairs which enabled the port to operate at 90 percent of pre-war capacity.

Germans retreating northward in 1943 gave their demolition techniques a full workout at Naples. When the allies arrived, they found three-fourths of the piers out of use for months to come, nearly 150 vessels sunk and all elevators and railway tracks destroyed.

U. S. Army engineers improvised hasty repairs so the port could supply Allied armies as they moved north, but left most permanent reconstruction for the Italians.

"Our job started when the Allied forces handed back the port to Italian civil authorities," Basso said. "In the two years since, the port has resumed its peace-time aspect. Piers and warehouses have been rebuilt, electric water plants and cranes have been restored to normal service, and the finishing touches are being given to the much bombed maritime station."

"Presidents On Parade" Placed on Shelves Of Carnegie Library

A very interesting and informative book, "Presidents on Parade," has been placed on the shelves of the Carnegie Public Library, in memory of Dr. Rinaldo M. Hughey.

It is a picture book of the presidents of the United States compiled by Hirst D. Milhollen and Milton Kaplan who are both connected with the print division of the Library of Congress. They have selected the very finest prints from that collection, used paintings from the White House collection of official portraits, and have selected material from the National Gallery of Art, other museums and private collections.

All the presidents of the United States, from George Washington through Harry S. Truman are represented on these pages. There are portraits of the presidents themselves and of their wives, pictures of their birthplaces, their colleges, their homes and high points of their political, military and personal careers.

This unusual picture book includes much material that has never before been reproduced, and a brief commentary provides a condensed summary of presidential history, giving the important dates and facts.

Alps Claim 40 Lives During This Season

BERN, Switzerland.—(AP)—The Swiss Alps have claimed approximately 40 lives during the current mountaineering season. The season begins in May and ends in mid-September, depending on weather conditions.

The victims ranged all the way from rank novices who plunged to their deaths when they were lured to a perilous spot by the sight of an edelweiss, to hard-bitten mountaineers who were surprised by bad weather or hit by stones which came hurtling down the mountainside. One of Switzerland's most experienced guides, Hans Schlunegger of Wengen, and two companions were caught by an avalanche on the Grosshorn and plunged to their deaths, 300 meters down the glacial slopes.

One of the strangest stories to come out of the Jungfrau area was that of a woman climber, who survived two nights in sub-freezing temperatures. Her two men companions froze to death after a blizzard surprised the trio and they were forced to bivouac for the night.

Young Medicos Take New Pledge 'Humanity' Is Key To Profession Code

GENEVA —(AP)—Physicians of the future will take a new graduation pledge not to use their medical knowledge "contrary to the laws of humanity." The pledge, part of which was inspired by the gruesome revelations of medical experiments on human beings in Nazi Germany, was adopted unanimously by the World Medical Association in session here. Seventy national associations took part in the meeting.

The pledge, which will be taken by the young physicians upon graduation from medical school, declares: "Now being admitted to the profession of medicine I solemnly pledge to consecrate my life to the service of humanity. I will give respect and gratitude to my deserving teachers. I will practice medicine with conscience and dignity. The health and life of my patient will be my first consideration. I will respect all that my patient confides in me. I will maintain the honor and the noble traditions of the medical profession. My colleagues will be as my brothers. I will not permit considerations of race, religion, nationality, party politics or social standing to intervene between my duty and my patient. I will maintain the utmost respect for human life from the time of its conception. Even under threat I will not use my knowledge contrary to the laws of humanity. These promises

I make freely and upon my honor."

The World Medical Association heard reports on the state of medical practice throughout the world, on improvements in post-graduate medical education and the standardization of undergraduate medical education.

German physicians, seeking membership in the body, were requested to form new democratic national organizations and to apologize for actions undertaken during the war before they could be admitted to the association.

Price Supports On Farm Crops For Safeguard

System Originated
In Depression but Revised Since Then

WASHINGTON—(P)—The price of food is high, and yet the government is guaranteeing the farmer a minimum price for 20 major crops.

Most farmers understand the principles behind price supports but not so all the city folks with grocery bills to meet.

The farmers know, for instance, that while the government was guaranteeing a certain price for some crops in the past few years, it was seldom that the market price fell below the guaranteed price. So the government seldom had to step in with heavy support.

Attempts to stabilize crop prices by artificial means date back many years. At first farmers tried to do it by cooperative methods, by agreeing to withhold products from markets so there would be a scarcity and prices would stay up.

During the Hoover administration the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1929 was passed in an effort to keep prices from falling because of farm surpluses.

The government bought grain in an effort to keep up the farmers' prices. Then the Democrats came to power and passed the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933. Farmers agreed to limit the size of crops in return for benefit payments. The government attempted to finance these payments through taxes levied against food processors, but this was held unconstitutional in 1936.

The government then began paying the farmers out of general revenues, raised by taxation and other means.

Before the war the problem was to limit crops to prevent market glut and declining prices. In wartime the government guaranteed prices to encourage the farmers to produce all the food possible. That's one reason the U. S. had as much food as it did. Thus price support plus crop controls—limiting acreages—have been used by the government at one time to limit production, and price supports have been used at another time to increase production.

What's happened now is this: We have moved once more from a situation in which a scarcity of food was threatened, as during the war, into one in which surpluses may occur.

We have bumper crops and a declining market. Many agriculture experts estimate the government will have to put out around $1,500,000,000 to keep prices on 1948 crops from falling below levels fixed by law.

Some experts are saying price supports must be cut in the face of this record production.

But in the closing hours of Congress this year a bill was passed which was continued to present supports through 1949. Any new changes would have to be made by Congress, and Congress won't meet until January. That's too late to have effect on some 1949 crops, like winter wheat.

After next year the law provides the supports may be lowered, in most cases.

The price at which the government supports crops is based in a complicated formula. In general this formula attempts to tie crop prices with the farmer's cost of living. If the prices of the things he has to buy go up, so do the support prices. If farmers' costs go down, so do support prices.

After 1949, the law also provides that the more abundant the crop, the less support the farmers will receive, as far as most crops are concerned. This will tend to reduce unreasonable surpluses, agriculture experts say.

Agriculture experts say price supports aren't responsible—or at least entirely responsible—for high prices. They point out that most market prices have been higher than the government support price. This, they say, has encouraged production. And high production, they add, is the best way to bring down prices.

Mrs. Albert Struove was at home last Thursday evening to the members of her five hundred club.

Three tables were formed for the progressive rounds, the game concluded when scores were tallied.

Mrs. Hazel McKibben, Mrs. Charles Cross and Mrs. Fred Countryman won the awards, and Mrs. Paul Maynard received the honor gift.

Autumn flowers graced the tables for the serving of a refreshment course. The players included: Mrs. Thomas Cox, Mrs. Arthur Newton, Mrs. Nola Shepard, Mrs. John Baitzel, Mrs. Charles Raikie Sr., Mrs. Joe Lutz, Mrs. Francis Frambes, Mrs. Donald Borden, Mrs. McKibben, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Countryman and Mrs. Maynard.

Government Plant Swept by Flames

LORAIN, Sept. 23—(P)—Firemen and federal authorities sought today to determine the cause of a fire which wrecked the huge government-owned Brush Beryllium Co. plant.

The company had started preparing for a possible expansion costing $300,000 in the event it secured a new contract with the Atomic Energy Commission. Under a previous contract, now expired, it had smelted Beryllium ore into metal, a non-explosive product.

Snakes do not travel in pairs. More than 172,000 forest fires occur annually.

Indians Climb into Tie With Bosox for Lead With Feller's 5-2 Win

BY RALPH RODEN
(By the Associated Press)

Cleveland's pennant outlook is extremely bright today. How long it stays that way depends directly on the fifth place Detroit Tigers.

The Indians beat the Red Sox, 5-2, last night to tie Boston for the American League lead, a half game ahead of the third place New York Yankees. The Yankees brushed off the Chicago White Sox, 7-2. Another victory over Chicago today would jump the Yanks into a three way tie for first as both Boston and Cleveland are idle.

Cleveland's advantage over the Red Sox and Yankees lies in the remaining schedule. The Indians have eight games to go, all against second division clubs. The Red Sox also have eight games to play, but five of them are against the Yanks, who have nine games left.

Six of Cleveland's eight contests are against the Tigers, three in Detroit and three in Cleveland.

Feller Gets Job

Bob Feller, who has had his ups and downs during the season, was selected by manager Lou Boudreau to pitch the "must" game against the Red Sox last night, and the big boy came through brilliantly. A crowd of 76,772 saw Feller win on three hits and fanned six in

Vandy Hurls His 16th Win

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23—(AP)—Johnny Vander Meer, the big left-handed veteran pitcher, hurled his 16th victory last night and capped the effort with a game-winning double as the Reds collected a 4-3 win from the Philadelphia Phils.

Vandy limited the Phils to seven hits while his teammates were getting eight from Ken Heintzelman and Schoolboy Rowe. Vander Meer has lost 13 games.

The Phils grabbed a two-run lead in the third inning, but Hank Sauer's 35th homer, coming in the sixth with Benny Zientara on base, knotted the count.

Consecutive doubles by Virgil Stallcup, Ray Lamanno and Vander Meer brought in two Red runs in the seventh to provide the victory.

Vandy walked seven, including two in the ninth that set-up the Phils' final tally, but was effective with men on base. He struck out five.

Granville Hamner's ninth inning single brought in one run after two men had walked.

Bucky Fires Bucky Just as a Hurler

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23—(AP)—Bucky Walters, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, handed Bucky Walters, the pitcher, his release today.

Walters, who replaced Johnny Neun as boss of the Redlegs last month, said he was stepping out of the active playing ranks to make room for Steve Filipowicz, ex-Fordham football star who is getting a tryout as a Cincinnati outfielder.

"It doesn't necessarily mean that I've quit as a player," Walters said. "Next season I may get in shape again and I'd like to remind you that I still have hopes of winning those two big games."

Bucky needs two more pitching decisions to join the select list of National League hurlers with 200 victories.

Bowling Leagues Here Plan to Set Up Own Organizations

Sponsors and captains of the nine bowling leagues that have registered at the new Bowland lanes on the CCC Highway today were spreading around the word among the 72 teams that each league will have its own officers and that they would do well to give some consideration now for their selections.

They--the sponsors and captains--met at Bowland Wednesday night to decide whether there should be one over-all organization or organization by leagues. The decision was to have each league select its own president and set of officers. More than 100 were at the meeting.

The leagues are to have their own meetings to choose them in the near future.

Two leagues are to bowl each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night, under the plans approved Wednesday night. One league will bowl Friday nights, but there is a place for still another to get into the race at that time.

Each of the leagues is made up of eight teams. They cover nearly every kind of eligibility background, and include both men and women.

The schedules are now being drawn up by Tony Capuana, the Country Club golf pro who has been given a part in running the bowling during the winter.

The first league games are slated to start Oct. 4. In the mean time, the leagues are to get organized by selecting their officers and setting up their rules and regulations.

Lions Tighten Defense By Workout Against Jackson Offense Plays

With hopes of keeping up their unusual defense record, the Lions of WHS worked out against the Jackson offensive plays mapped out by Ronald Guinn, an assistant WHS coach who scouted the Jackson-Greenfield game last Friday night.

If the stone wall the first stringers threw up against the second team in Wednesday evenings practice is any indication, the Jackson boys will be in for a tough evening when the Lions invade their field.

But that rugged blue and white outfit has its work cut out if it maintains the defensive record it set in the opener when the Panthers from Columbus' Linden-McKinley High School were denied that first down on the ground and held to a net gain of 12 yards. The Lions won the game, 31 to 6, with the Panthers' only score coming after an unexpected forward pass and run that covered 87 yards.

Before the workout on the Jackson defense, the boys were put through a round of tackling and blocking instruction—with plenty of rugged contact thrown in. But, the boys all came out of it in good shape.

Bill Smith, the all-star backfield's slashing halfback who has been out with a bad knee, was "running like a deer," as Coach Fred Pierson put it. However, he was not included in the starting lineup Pierson drew up after the drill. Dave Looker, who turned in a couple of sparkling runs against the Panthers, is slated to take his post on the offense, and the hard hitting Jim Aleshire is to go in on the defense.

Joe Brandon, who also has been having some knee troubles, was in his regular quarterback spot both at practice and in the advance starting lineup.

Pierson said, however, both things at three games each.

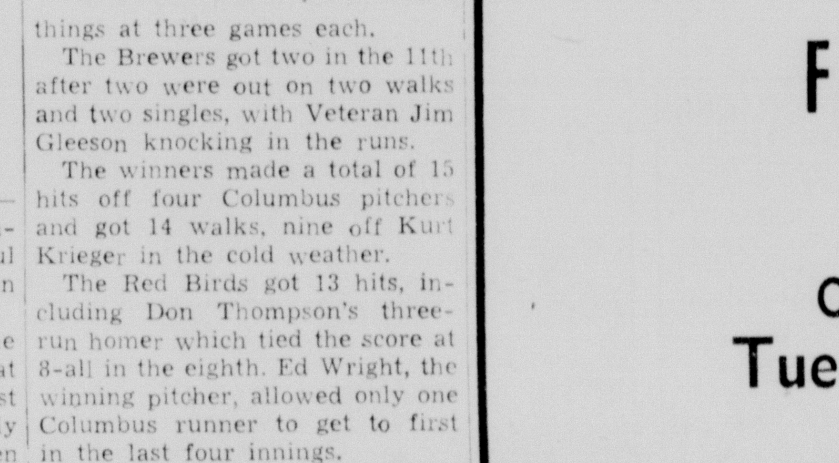

The Brewers got two in the 11th after two were out on two walks and two singles, with Veteran Jim Gleason knocking in the runs.

The winners made a total of 15 hits off four Columbus pitchers and got 14 walks, nine off Kurt Krieger in the cold weather.

The Red Birds got 13 hits, including Don Thompson's three-run homer which tied the score at 8-all in the eighth. Ed Wright, the winning pitcher, allowed only one Columbus runner to get to first in the last four innings.

Outlook Dark For Ohio State

Even Coach Fesler Foresees Defeat

COLUMBUS, Sept. 23—(AP)—It says in the papers that Columbus is going into its annual football trance and that's about right.

Coach Wesley Fesler of the Ohio State University Buckeyes has warned that the boys won't look too good against Missouri Saturday and there have been dark hints of don't be too upset if we're upset.

But the ticket sale outlook, according to ticket sale director Oscar L. Thomas, is for 60,000 people to claw their way into Ohio Stadium by 2 P. M. Saturday.

Regardless of what the team does--and Fesler is still not expecting a whirlwind team until 1949--the customers will have their usual entertainment from Ohio State's famous 120-piece marching band.

The horn beaters have been drilling as hard as the team, and maybe not so much defensive drilling either. Director Manley R. Whitcomb gets up in a B-deck window, high on the west side, and moves his people around with a loudspeaker in practice.

As for the football team, Fesler talks like putting Bob Dorsey of Houston, Tex., on one end and sub Chuck Gilbert of Columbus on the other. They're about the only ends he has that aren't wrapped up in adhesive tape.

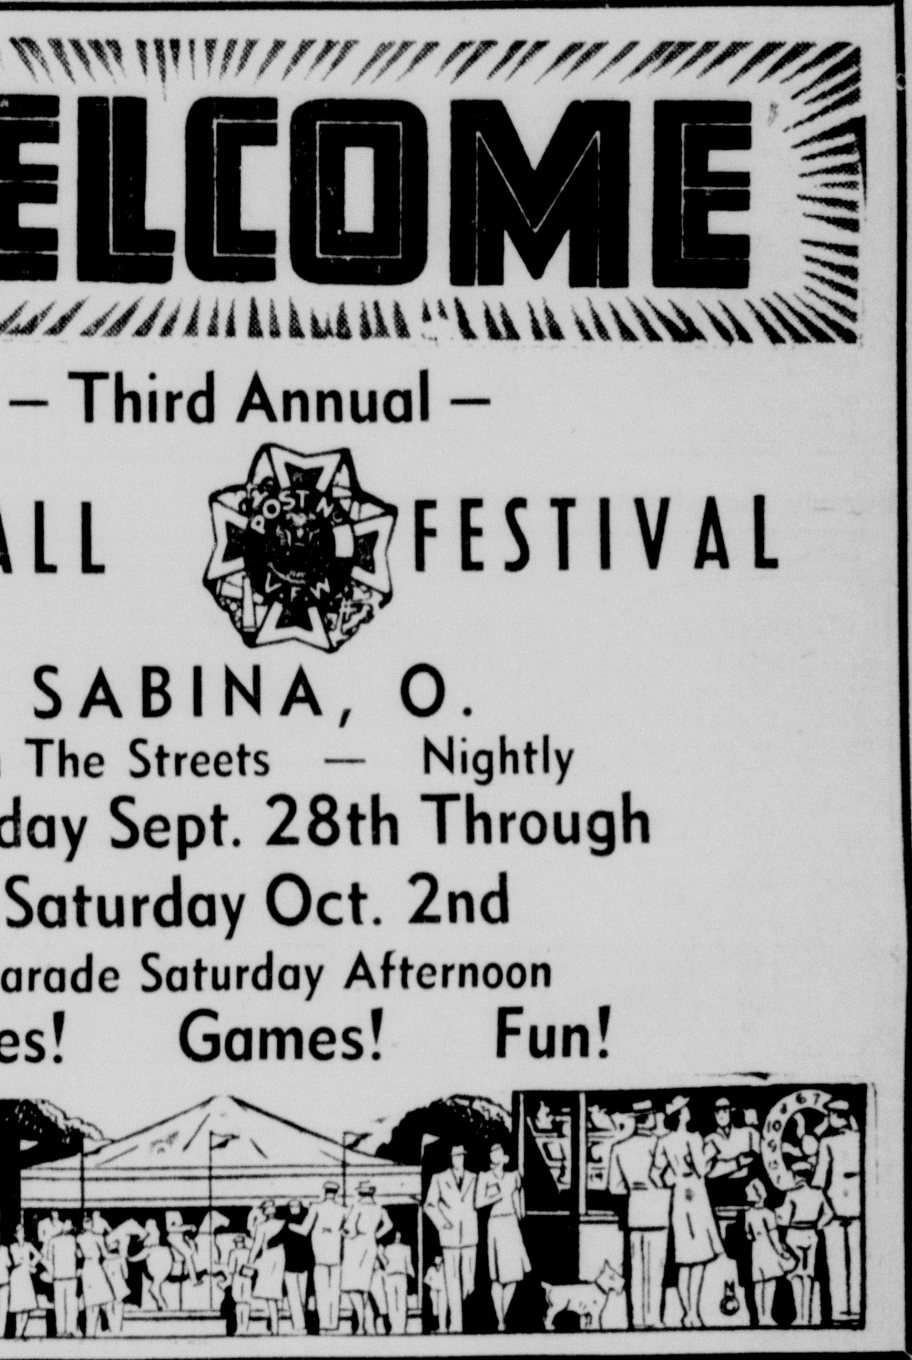

Tom Watson of Urbana, for whom Gilbert will start, is still nursing a trick knee, and Sonny Gandee of Berea has a leg muscle injury and a bruised shoulder. They worked out a little yesterday, but showed that they weren't ready to take a beating yet.

Use Car Sales Are Slowed by Credit Control

Prices Brought Down By Dealers Reducing Their Stock of Cars

By DAVID WILKIE

DETROIT, Sept. 23—(AP)—Used car buying has tightened up somewhat with the return of credit restrictions but the bottom has dropped out of the market.

It appears right now that the restrictions requiring larger monthly payments in most instances, will be taken in stride by dealers generally. Most dealers report they have enjoyed a lull period during the summer months and that a tapering off in their business was due even without credit controls.

The controls became effective last Monday and some dealers immediately reported prices had slumped as much as $200 a car. Most of them agreed it was too early to measure the effect of the new regulations. Some said it would take at least a month to determine what part of the leveling off in demand was due to the new restrictions and what could be attributed to seasonal influences.

Prices Brought Down

The trade paper Automotive News, which has just completed another survey of marketing conditions, said this week that "forced reduction of used car inventories during the past six weeks" in anticipation of the new restrictions, brought prices down from $200 to $500.

It added, however, that new car dealers reported only a few scattered instances of customers cancelling new car orders as the result of curbs on down payments.

Both new and used-car dealers, Automotive News said, "appear less concerned about the return of regulation W than they were previously."

Not all dealers, of course, cut down their stocks of used cars. They held on, believing the market will bounce back. Whether or not they are correct in this assumption, many of them continue to pay more than list prices for late models of popular makes.

Some industry analysts say the new credit curbs will have no effect whatever in the volume of business done on the used car lots. They agree that if payment must be completed in 15 months instead of 24 as heretofore has been possible, some would-be buyers will be forced out of the market. At the same time they say the demand overall is so great that the used car merchants will not feel much curtailment until new car production more nearly balances with the unfilled order list.

Demand Remains

Right now that list is estimated to stand at more than 7,000,000 cars, including a lot of duplications, but plus an unestimated number of orders withheld because of poor delivery prospects.

Some time next month Nash will publicly introduce its re-designed and re-styled 1949 models and announce new prices. George W. Mason, Nash president, has made it clear the price tags will be higher and many industry chroniclers believe they will start another round of increases for the other 1949 models to follow.

"New material and labor costs must be taken into consideration," Mason said, "in the prices that will be set."

Yet to come in 1949 models are all the General Motors and Chrysler lines, and Studebaker, Packard and Hudson. Some, like GM's Buick, Pontiac and Chevrolet and all the Chrysler divisions have not yet made the major postwar

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT

"DAVID IS AN opportunist, he snatches his chance of fortune," Poirot went on. "He identifies her as his sister. He returns to consciousness to find him at her bedside. He persuades and cajoles her into accepting the role."

"But imagine their consternation when the first blackmailing letter arrives. All along I have said to myself, 'Is Hunter really the type of man to let himself be blackmailed so easily?' It seemed, too, that he was actually uncertain whether the man blackmailing him was Underhay or not. But how could he be uncertain? Rosaleen Cloade could tell him at once if the man were her husband or not. Why hurry her up to London before she has a chance to catch a glimpse of the man? Because—there could only be one reason—because he could not risk the man getting a glimpse of her. If the man was Underhay, he must not discover that Rosaleen Cloade was not Rosaleen Cloade at all. No, there was only one thing to be done. Pay up enough to keep the blackmailer quiet, and then—do a flit—go off to America."

"And then, unexpectedly, the blackmailing stranger is murdered—and Major Porter identifies him as Underhay. Never in his life has David Hunter been in a tighter place! Worse still, the girl herself is beginning to crack. Her conscience is becoming increasingly active. She is showing signs of mental breakdown. Sooner or later she will confess, give the whole thing away, render him liable to criminal prosecution. Moreover, he finds her demands on him increasingly irksome. He has fallen in love with you. So he decides to cut his losses. Eileen must die. He substitutes morphia for one of the powders prescribed for her by Dr. Cloade (urges on her to take them every night, suggests to her fears of the Cloade family. David Hunter will not be suspected since the death of his sister means that her money passes back to the Cloades."

"That was his trump card: lack of motive. As I told you—this case was always the wrong way round. The door opened and Superintendent Spence came in. Poirot said sharply: 'Eh bien?' Spence said, 'It's all right. We've got him.'"

Lynn said in a low voice: "Did he—say anything?" "Said he'd had a good run for his money..."

"I know," Lynn gave a grimace and put her fingers gingerly to her throat. "Actually, it was just when I thought you had killed me, that I began to realize what a really thundering fool I'd been making of myself!"

"I don't understand," said Rowley. "Oh, don't be stupid. I always wanted to marry you, didn't I? And then I got out of touch with you—you seemed to me so tame—so meek—I felt life would be so safe with you—so dull. I fell for David because he was dangerous and attractive—and, to be honest, because he knows women much to well. But none of that was real. When you caught hold of me by the throat and said if I wasn't for you, no one should have me—I knew then that I was your woman! Unfortunately it seemed that I was going to know it—just too late. . . . Luckily Hercule Poirot walked in and saved the situation. And I am your woman, Rowley!"

"Funny," added the Superintendent, "how they always talk at the wrong moment. . . . We cautioned him, of course. But he said, 'Cut it out, man. I'm a gambler—but I know when I've lost the last throw.'"

Poirot murmured: "There is a tide in the affairs of men. Which, taken at its floor, leads on to fortune. . . . Yes, the tide sweeps in—but it also ebbs—and may carry you out to sea."

It was a Sunday morning when Rowley Cloade, answering a knock at the farm door, found Lynn waiting outside.

"He stepped back a pace. "Lynn!" "Can I come in, Rowley?" He stood back a little. She passed him and went into the kitchen. She had been at church and was wearing a hat. Slowly, with an almost ritual air, she raised her hands, took off the hat and laid it down on the window sill.

"I've come home, Rowley." "What on earth do you mean?" "Just that. I've come home. This is home—here, with you. I've been a fool not to know it before—not to know journey's end when I saw it. Don't you understand, Rowley, I've come home."

"You don't know what you're saying, Lynn. I—I tried to kill you!" "I know," Lynn gave a grimace and put her fingers gingerly to her throat. "Actually, it was just when I thought you had killed me, that I began to realize what a really thundering fool I'd been making of myself!"

"I don't understand," said Rowley. "Oh, don't be stupid. I always wanted to marry you, didn't I? Rowley shook his head. "It's impossible, Lynn. I've killed two men—murdered them—" "Rubbish," cried Lynn. "Don't be pigheaded and melodramatic. If you have a row with a hulking big man and hit him and he falls down and hits his head on a fender—that isn't murder. It's not even legally murder."

"It's manslaughter. You go to prison for it." "Possibly. If so, I shall be on the step when you come out."

"And there's Porter. I'm morally responsible for his death."

"No, you're not. He was a fully adult responsible man—he could have turned down your proposition. One can't blame anyone else for the things one decides to do with one's eyes open. You suggested dishonesty to him, he accepted it and then repented and took a quick way out. He was just a 'cack character.'"

Rowley shook his head obstinately. "It's no good, old girl. You can't marry a jail bird."

"I don't think you're going to jail. A policeman would have been round for you before now if so."

Rowley stared. "But damn it all, manslaughter—bribing Porter. . . ."

"What makes you think the police know anything about all that or ever will?"

"That fellow Poirot knows."

"He isn't the police. I'll tell you what the police think. They think David Hunter killed Arden as well as Rosaleen, now they know he was in Warmies Vale that evening. They won't charge him with it because it isn't necessary—and besides, I believe you can't be arrested twice on the same charge. But as long as they think he did it, they won't look for anyone else."

"But that chap Poirot—" "He told the Superintendent it was an accident, and I gather the Superintendent just laughed at him. If you ask me, I think Poirot will say nothing to anyone. He's rather a dear. . . ."

"No, Lynn. I can't let you risk it. Apart from anything else I—well, I mean, can I trust myself? What I mean is, it wouldn't be safe for you."

"Perhaps not. . . . But you see, Rowley, I do love you—and you've had such a bad time—and I've never, really, cared very much for being safe. . . ."

Radio Give-Aways To Get Controls

SUN VALLEY, Idaho, Sept. 23—(AP)—Tighter controls will apply to give-away programs over the National Broadcasting Company next year.

NBC officials at the network's annual convention announced the new code imposing a form of economic sanctions on the gift programs.

The new code, which becomes effective next Jan. 1, contains all essentials of the standards of practice adopted by the National Association of Broadcasters. A number of stricter provisions have been added by NBC officials.

Yard Grass Mowed On 101st Birthday

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—(AP)—Ferdinand R. Jeschke mowed the grass in the yard of his home yesterday but he planned to take it easy today—his 101st birthday.

Jeschke says that despite his advanced age he eats and sleeps well, smokes, reads, and has a couple of glasses of wine every day. Only his hearing has become defective. He lives in suburban Melrose Park with two daughters.

Jeschke, who was born in Germany, worked for the Western Electric Company for many years before retiring on pension in 1909 at the age of 62.

According to Department of Commerce estimates, expenditures for construction of religious buildings declined from $139 million to $20 million in 1933 and, after 1935, rose to 55 million in 1940 and $58 million in 1941.

SICK!

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health

IF YOU ARE a sufferer of these ailments, try GEO-MINERAL. You may be astonished at the results. You need not guess—you will see facts. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth—Nature's Laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, rosy cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

Amazing Results

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it. Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thonon in the Alps. The Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank his waters and bathed to be invincible.

635 Get X-rays In TB Survey Wednesday

Unit is Set Up In Eagles Club Rooms For General Public

Response to the free X-ray service in the Eagle's Club Room Wednesday afternoon and evening was unusually good, according to Paul J. Strevey, executive secretary of the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Six hundred and thirty-five X-rays were taken Wednesday including 157 taken Wednesday morning when the equipment was set up in offices of two Washington C. H. business houses.

Gretchen Darlington and Ruth Smith of the Health Department took an active part in assisting with the operation of the X-ray service and Miss Joy Cockerill and Miss Nancy Hewitt helped efficiently in the typing and clerical work.

Miss Lillie E. Henkle and Miss Frances White took over the typing duties early in the evening.

At the Hagerty Shoe Co. Wednesday morning 82 employees took advantage of the X-ray. Fifty Morton Showcase employees had their chests X-rayed at the Hagerty Shoe Co. The machine was then moved to the Record-Herald office where 26 photos were taken for Record-Herald and Coca-Cola Bottling Co. employees.

The equipment is owned and operated by Bob Brooks of Columbus who was obtained by the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association for the job.

The TB clinic, conducted Tuesday afternoon in the health department offices by Dr. Damon E. Wetterauer of Mt. Logan Sanatorium served 18 who had been referred there by their physicians. According to Miss Darlington, chief nurse of the health department, results of the clinic will be in Friday and will be mailed to the physicians.

Both the clinic and the X-ray photo service were made possible by the sale of Christmas seals in this county in 1947. The fluoro-scope used in the clinic was bought for the health department earlier this year.

Strevey said another X-ray service which will be held next spring probably will travel among the smaller towns surrounding Washington C. H. The TB and Health Association plans to make the X-ray available every year.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment, sour, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-loads of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is 888 Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people 888 Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of 888 Tonic from your drug store today! 888 Tonic helps build sturdy bodies.

Creek Flowing North of Dam

Ground Soaked With 2.77 Inches of Rain

As result of the 2.77 inches of rain Monday and Tuesday, Paint Creek late Wednesday was starting to pour water, very slowly, into the reservoir above the dam at the pumping station.

However indications are that unless additional rain falls soon the flow of this stream will not be sufficient to fill the reservoir and start water pouring over the dam to cause the stream to flow through the city.

The dry soil soaked up a large portion of the rainfall, and there was comparatively little runoff to flood streams, except during the initial heavy rain early Monday morning.

Pronounced drops in temperature followed the heavy rains, and the mercury went down to 43 degrees for the official reading Wednesday night. At 8 A. M. Thursday the mercury still stood at 51 degrees.

However a year ago freezing temperatures occurred, with a low point of 32 degrees and high of 63. Wednesday's peak was 67 degrees.

Wilmington College Enrollment At 600

WILMINGTON, Sept. 23 (spcl) For the eighth consecutive term, a new enrollment record was set at Wilmington College this week as 595 full-time day students registered for classes. Late registrations are expected to push the total above the 600-mark.

In addition to the full-time students Wilmington has 41 enrolled for night classes on the campus and nearly 400 students at the extension center at Wright-Patterson Field near Dayton. A number from Fayette County are enrolled.

Campus enrollment a year ago was 575 students. For the first time in several years there is a more even distribution of students among the various class levels. Freshmen total 207, sophomores 170, juniors 133, and seniors 79. Six are classified as special students with no class rank.

Paving Resumed After Rains End

Halted two days by rainfall, the Clinton Construction Company Thursday morning resumed the work of resurfacing Fayette Street from Court Street to the corporation line.

Resurfacing over the bridge over Paint Creek was completed, after which the building up of a depression at Fayette and East streets, was taken up and completed.

The spreader is now laying the first course south of the bridge. If weather permits the street will be completed within the next week.

The word "nerve" originally meant tendon or sinew.

Ohio GOP Platform

"We pledge a continuous study of current trends and needs. We pledge a just and equitable distribution of functions of government. We pledge a just and equitable distribution of state revenues to local governments."

Many other points were recasting of portions of the party's citation of Governor Herbert's record Tuesday night. However, in a long section on the state highways, the draft called for laws to permit hiring "at adequate compensation, of highly trained engineers."

As in the platform two years ago, the draft favored "such legislation as may be necessary to maintain" the rights "of all persons to gain a livelihood at honest work," of "equal opportunity to work and to advance in life (regardless) of race, religion, color, or country of origin."

The labor section urged laws "modernizing our mediation and conciliation procedure," and said in an echo of the governor's action calling out the national guard to halt picket-line disturbances at the Univis Lens Co., at Dayton late in July and early August:

"The right of labor to organize and bargain collectively with employers is an inalienable right. Government decision must not be substituted for free agreement, but governmental machinery should be available to facilitate peaceful settlement. Contracts must be equally binding on both parties. There must, in no event, be resort to violence."

The party also would be pledged to any laws necessary to "preserve exclusive state regulation of insurance."

The section on agriculture, in addition to supporting the principle of farmer-owned cooperatives, promised to continue and strengthen the present program of the state department of agriculture, to support "effective soil conservation, erosion control, reforestation, and the improved farm market transportation programs," and to encourage "extension and improvement of electric and telephone service in rural Ohio."

The taxation section, after reiterating the party claim of an $88,000,000 tax saving during the biennium, renewed "our pledge of no new or increased state taxes."

"We shall further reduce state taxes whenever and wherever possible," it said.
